

Preserving your Family Photo History Workshop

As part of National Family History Week, the Dublin History Group held an open workshop on the 29th July at the Dublin History Group Research Centre about taking care of your old family photos and displaying them. Tania Gilbert hosted the Workshop which was attended by locals and city folk. She talked about old photos and how important it is to take care of them, along with ideas of how to display them. She was given some DHG photos which she scrapbooked into an album, which will be returned for the DHG to display. When choosing the photos, Tania was amazed at how much information she found out when she started researching them which has ignited her interest in going further into her family history.

Tania is also looking at running some Scrapbooking Workshops at the Centre in the near future, so if you are interested you can let us know via e-mail, workshops@dublinhistorygroup.com.au, keep an eye on our website, www.dublinhistorygroup.com.au and in the Dublin Dispatch for more information.

Lisa Mansell, Geoffrey Ralph and Laura Parsons look on as Tania talks about the album and the photos

For up to date information on what's happening at the Dublin History Group Research Centre checkout the calendar on our website for opening times and events. Everyone is welcome to see what there is to offer, to have a chat, or just a cuppa.

Andrea Brow