

Parham (Port)

Past and Present

On Sunday the 30th May, the Dublin History Group Inc. presented their contribution to this years SA History Festival Parham (Port) Past and Present. Through displays and talks we told the story of this coastal town, the Jinkers and touched upon the Mosquito Fleet.

Philip Brow presented research by Father Bart O'Donovan who could not attend, about the Church's use of Parham over the years. Andrea Brow gave a little presentation on the SA Mosquito Fleet, then Ian Telfer gave the story of the Jinkers and the engineering behind it. We were fortunate to have the Jenkin Jinker out the front so visitors could see up close what was presented. The children were kept busy with activities in the research area and proudly took home their creations.

A special thank you to the Jenkin Family, Alvin for his assistance with research and use of the Jinker and Michael for letting us use some of the amazing photos he has taken of the Parham area over the years.
